DETAILED ACTION

Claims 31-79 are pending. The Amendment filed 1/27/03, Paper No. 19, amended claims 31, -33, 41-43, 50, 53, and 61-63, and added claims 64-79.

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 1/27/03 has been entered.

Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 31, 33-35, 61, 64, 68, 71-72, drawn to a method for the in vivo detection of fibrin.

Group II, claim(s) 32, 36-40, 54-60, 62, 65, 69, 73-75, drawn to a method for the detection of fibrin in a sample containing fibrin.

Group III, claim(s) 41-49, 63, 66, 70, 76-77, drawn to a detectable reagent.

Group IV, claim(s) 50-53, 67, 78-79, drawn to a method of targeting a drug to a localized fibrin site in vivo.

The inventions listed as Groups I-IV do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

Art Unit: 1617

The technical feature linking groups I-IV appears to be that they all relate to a detectable reagent comprising discrete particle dispersed in a carrier, diluent, excipient, adjuvant, wherein said particle comprise a detectable marker encased in at least two layers of carbon.

However, Burch et al. (1986) teach Technegas (a plurality of discrete particles comprising a plurality of coating layers of carbon which completely enclose a minute crystal of ^{99m}Tc metal) in an aqueous aerosol (carrier).

Therefore, the technical feature linking the inventions of groups I-IV does not constitute a special technical feature as defined by PCT Rule 13.2, as it does not define a contribution over the prior art.

The special technical feature of Group I is considered to be a method for the in vivo detection of fibrin comprising administering to a patient a detectable reagent comprising discrete particle dispersed in a carrier, diluent, excipient, adjuvant, wherein said particle comprise a detectable marker encased in at least two layers of carbon.

The special technical feature of Group II is considered to be a method for the detection of fibrin in a sample containing fibrin comprising supplying to said sample a detectable reagent comprising discrete particle dispersed in a carrier, diluent, excipient, adjuvant, wherein said particle comprise a detectable marker encased in at least two layers of carbon.

The special technical feature of Group III is considered to be a detectable reagent comprising discrete particle dispersed in a carrier, diluent, excipient, adjuvant, wherein said particle comprise a detectable marker encased in at least two layers of carbon.

The special technical feature of Group IV is considered to be a method of targeting a drug to a localized fibrin site in vivo comprising administering to a patient a detectable reagent comprising discrete particle dispersed in a carrier, diluent, excipient, adjuvant, wherein said particle comprise a detectable marker encased in at least two layers of carbon.

Accordingly, Groups I-IV are not so linked by the same or a corresponding special technical feature as to form a single general inventive concept.

A telephone call was made to Donna Ferber on 3/18/03 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
